AFIA's FDA Inspection Webinar Available for Purchase

The American Feed Industry Association's "Preparing for FDA: Before, During and After an Inspection," webinar held Tuesday, April 14, is now available for purchase. Speakers Richard Sellers, AFIA senior vice president of legislative and regulatory affairs, and John Dillard, an attorney for AFIA's outside legal counsel, explain in detail what facility managers need to know about inspections and a firm's obligations, as well as how to respond to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration's various inspection requests for information. Sellers and Dillard also addressed what documents firms should or should not supply to FDA during an inspection.

The webinar comes complete with a full question and answer session as recorded from the live webinar.
